NEW FOREST

New Forest Golf Club is now ranked number 26 out of the top 50 Irish Parkland golf courses.

Thank you to everyone who supported the club over the last year and special thanks to Mr Donal Shine (Course Superintendent) and the green staff for all their work in helping us achieve this position.

Looking at the rankings we are now competing with the very best Irish and European Parkland Golf Courses.

With the ongoing course upgrades and development of our Golf Academy, we aim to move even further up the rankings in the year ahead.

We are also hosting our first championship this summer in the Irish Mid-Amateur Open Championship June 2015.

New Forest is the biggest mover this year and jumps 17 places up the rankings. Located on the picturesque New Forest Estate in Tyrellspass Co Westmeath this is a stunning Pete McEvoy design. McEvoy considers it one of his finest designs and there is no doubt New Forest is one of the nest parklands in the country. The natural beauty of the surrounding area has been utilised in the design as large oaks and chestnuts feature prominently, so too does the elegant 18th century mansion where the clubhouse can be found.
